

One Broadway, 14th Floor • Cambridge, MA 02142 • 617-583-1315 • www.invivotherapeutics.com

August 18, 2009

Contacts:

Frank Reynolds 617-475-1518
publicrelations@invivotherapeutics.com

For Immediate Release:

InVivo Therapeutics CEO Frank Reynolds to Join Massachusetts Stem Cell Bank Review Panel

Cambridge, MA--- Frank Reynolds InVivo Therapeutics' President and CEO has been invited to join the review panel at the Massachusetts Stem Cell Bank, located in Shrewsbury at the University of Massachusetts Medical School campus. Reynolds will become a permanent member of the panel and will be charged with helping to determine strategic direction and initiatives for the Bank, which was launched in 2008.

The invitation, extended by Harvey Lodish, a prominent member of the international scientific community and a founder of Genzyme and The Whitehead Institute, comes as a great honor for Reynolds. The recognition also comes as InVivo Therapeutics continues to develop and expand their stem cell technologies.

□

*

InVivo Therapeutics Corporation is a Cambridge, MA medical device company focused on combining polymers and stem cells to restore function in individuals paralyzed as a result of traumatic spinal cord injury. The company was founded in 2005 on the basis of research initiated in the laboratories of Robert Langer, PhD, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Jay Vacanti, MD, of the Massachusetts General and Children's Hospitals in Boston, and Yang Teng, PhD, MD, of Harvard's Brigham and Women's Hospital.